Ford's fourth and last Anglia - the 105E - broke cover in 1959. The styling displayed a strong American influence and included a sweeping nose, notchback rear window, and muted tail fins. The newcomer benefited from an equally new engine, a 997cc OHV straight-four unit codenamed `Kent', versions of which powered all manner of Fords for years after. It was mated to a four-speed manual gearbox ...

Please make every effort to support as many of these events as you can, they really are the "public face" of both the cars and the Ford Anglia 105E Owners Club. Without you, the Owners attending the shows in your Anglia's, there is no Owners Club, and you never know, we may be able to sign up a few more members too.
